Email Statement Instructions

Shortly after requesting email statements, you should receive an email containing our User Agreement. You will have to sign in using the user name that you picked for yourself above and password, which will always begin as test1234 (all lower case). You will then need to change the password to whatever you want. Please read and click "Accept" at the bottom of the agreement. (If you have a SPAM BLOCKER on your computer, you may need to put this address into your allowable emails: Confirmation@eStatementSolutions.com). Then you are "set up" to receive email statements. If you don't accept the agreement, no email statements will come. You should receive notification of your statement on the date that your next statement is due. If you have any problems accessing your statement, do not hesitate to call 573-221-6424.
